

Library Mini Game Shows

Who Knows Game Shows? We Are Your Final Answer.

We offer special cost effective scaled down game shows for libraries on limited budgets. Often library versions drop non essential scenery or lighting. Please note that these are available during off peak times at these prices. They are designed for smaller space and are to be run by one of our staff members, as opposed to the two that larger game shows require. All games are appropriate for kids as young as five through adults and seniors. They also work great for families.

Mini Trivia Blitz Game Show

Following a similar format as our larger Interactive Trivia Blitz, we have designed a smaller game show of the same nature.

We invite contestants up and interview them. The emcee asks high energy type questions on a variety of topics. The first team to "buzz in" gets a chance to answer. If it is correct, they get points. If it is wrong, they lose points. The audience is involved and a variety of other tricks are added. Best of all everyone is a winner.

We bring three to four tabletop contestant booths complete with microphones, host podium, sound effects, small sound system, and tons of trivia aimed at various age groups. Library programs run up to an hour. Mini Trivia Blitz for Libraries can not be used for school assemblies or groups with over 100 guests.

All Play — The Wireless Game Show !!!

Up to 30 wireless buzzers allow everyone to play our game show simulating the Fastest Finger Round of "Who Wants To Be a Millionaire". Computer shows questions on a screen with multiple choice answers. Contestants have 15 seconds to "buzz" in. Library version includes: Laptop with program, 30 buzzers, video projector, baby sound system, emcee, and up to sixty minutes. No "Play Pens", lights or extended drapes like in large version. Pictures are from a Bar Mitzvah cocktail hour with extended production levels.

Face Off Survivor Brain Game

Two teams of 25 each face off against each other. First person to buzz in gets to answer. If they are right, they stay in the game. Get it wrong, they are dismissed.

We include face off podium, emcee, basic sound system, backdrop, and up to one hour.

We can simulate or re create ANY TV, Stage, or Competitors Game Show. We have other game shows also in production. More info available on our web site. We provide game shows for other markets such as Corporate, Promotions, Social Events, and more.
