

Wheel of Knowledge

Part of the Multi Media Mania family of game shows from the Gurus

Wheel of Knowledge is our recreation of the popular game "Wheel of Fortune"™ but with an optional twist. Contestants can be asked to answer a question before placing their letter. Up to four players/teams can play. Wheel of Knowledge is a lot like the game "Hangman" meets Trivia.

First our emcee introduces the contestants.

Choosing Players—First the computer shows the spaces of the puzzle and a clue to what the puzzle may be about. Then the computer selects the starting player/team.

Answering Questions—In optional question mode, the players/teams must answer a question before placing their letter.

Placing Letters—Current team (A) gets to spin our virtual wheel using their buttons on their contestant booths. The wheel will land on a point value. That point value will determine how many points the next letter will be worth. If that letter is in the puzzle, Team A will get points for each time that letter appears. Team A gets to spin again until they miss a letter. The computer will then move to the next team and then continue until time runs out or the puzzle is solved.

If time runs short, the game will go in high speed round with each player only allowed to place one letter.

Buying Vowels—At any time after they have spun, a team may buy a vowel for as many point on the wheel.

Solving Puzzle—At any time a team who has control of the board may solve the puzzle and claim the points.

Spins have various options including free spins and losing a turn.

Up to four teams can play but this is slower — we recommend 2 or 3 teams. The games can be timed with as many puzzles and questions as necessary.

What We Provide

- Two dual Multi media booths with audio fold back, video fold back, and microphones. Button on podium that spins the wheel. (Smaller game shows can use one booth wired to four buttons)
- Sound system including wireless microphone for emcee,
- Mixer, CD Players, and microphones on booths.
- Stage PAR lights
- A Colored pipe and drape backdrop and banners
- Notebook computer with program, front or rear video projector and screen
- All material (unless client would like to provide it)
- All pre event coordination, trucking, load in, load out., and set up
- Professional emcee and sound technician
- Host podium with video screen
- Optional LED scoreboard

Options you may provide

- Logo sign for emcee podium or backdrop
- Prizes and or audience premiums
- List of contestants
- List of promotional announcements
- Judges

Site needs to provide

- 2 20-amp circuits
- Stage area: 24 feet wide by 16 feet deep minimum.) Space behind screen desired of 15 feet for rear projection.

(847) 781-7033

1265 Fairmont
Hoffman Estates, IL 60195
www.gameshowgurus.com

Producer's note: This is a newer offering from The Gurus in a similar format that has been very popular. This game show is exciting, fun, versatile, and challenging. It is, by its design, slower paced than some other game shows, including our own Interactive Trivia Blitz.